Just as Auctioneer Silo was ready to ask for a bid on tot I at the advertised sale of the furniture in the International Hotel, 17 and 19 Park Row, this morning, Col. Joshua Van Brimmer, the proprietor, whispered a few words to him. An announcement of the indefinite postponement of the sale was immediately made by Mr. cilo.

Proprietor Van Brimmer explained that he had determined to sell out because when he asked Ruland & Whiting, the agents of the sixteen heirs of the Greenwood estate, to which the property belongs, for a reduction of rent allowances for needed repairs, they had quietly raised the rent $5,000

His lease expires May 1. He has been paying $15,000 a year rent, and the altera-tions and repairs that he considers necessary amout to some $16,000.

Mr. Van Brimmer refused to go into details why the sale had been postponed. details why the sale had been postponed.

All he would say was that he had received assurances from reliable parties that he could stay on at the present rent. For how long, he was unable to say. It might be one or six months, or as long as he wished. He did say, however, that the property had been leased for ten years to whom, he could not state.

It was reported, however, that Frederick A. Ringler, of the Ringler Brewery Company, was the new lessee. Mr. Ringler was in the International this morning, but he refused to say whether he was the lessee or not. Ruland & Whiting, the agents, also refused to talk about the matter.

SHE CHASED THE ROBBER.

Miss Leslie Followed a Thief and Caused His Arrest.

Harry Clark, sixteen years, of 29 Second avenue, was held in $2,000 ball for trial, in the Harlem Police Court, this morning, charged with burglary. At 2 o'clock vesterday afternoon Clark rang the doorbell at 1412 Fifth avenue. It was the doorbell at 1412 Fifth avenue. It was answered by Florence Leslie, who lives on the first floor. Clark asked if Mr. Smith lived in the house. Receiving a negative answer he left.

A half hour later Miss Leslie heard her younger sister, who was in the parlor, crying out as if in fear. Rushing into the parlor Miss Leslie found Clark standing over a bundle of clothing, valued at $390, wrapped up in a table cloth. Clark ran out of the house, with Miss Leslie close at his heels shouting "Police!" Policeman Wheaton and Detective Smith gave chase, and after running several blocks, overtook Clark and arrested him.
